

Please be advised that this talk is restricted to the Western University community.

You are invited to the following Candidate Talk for the Indigenous Cluster Hire.

Monday, May 10, 2021

11:00am – 12:30pm

Via Zoom – Registration link is below.

Title: Indigenous Representation in the Newfoundland & Labrador Oil & Gas Industry – The Social Responsibility of Corporations Operating Offshore

John Kennedy B.A., M.Ed.

Inter-Disciplinary PhD (in progress)

Depts. of Business, Sociology, and Geography

Memorial University of Newfoundland

An overview will be provided of research findings to date related to diversity initiatives and their progress in achieving an Indigenous workforce within the offshore oil and gas industry of Newfoundland & Labrador.

Bio: John Kennedy, member of the Qalipu (Mi'kmaq) First Nation, is completing his PhD in the Inter-Disciplinary program at Memorial University of Newfoundland with a research concentration in Business, Sociology and Geography. His PhD focuses on Indigenous diversity in the workforce of Newfoundland's offshore oil and gas industry. He brings with him thirty years of experience in the sector's workforce, where he is currently employed within the Economic and Business Opportunities Branch at Indigenous Services Canada in Ottawa-Gatineau.

You are invited to a Zoom meeting.

When: May 10, 2021 11:00 AM Eastern Time (US and Canada)

Register in advance for this meeting:

<https://westernuniversity.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJcsc-6srj8qEtPxWR6-T-p6hGFGD40Qhe9>